

Ursinus College Digital Commons @ Ursinus College

Other Correspondence

Assistant Secretary of State (1909-1913)

4-22-1909

Letter From Francis Mairs Huntington-Wilson to Richard M. Bartleman, April 22, 1909

Francis Mairs Huntington-Wilson

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/fmhw_other

 Part of the Diplomatic History Commons, Latin American History Commons, Political History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Huntington-Wilson, Francis Mairs, "Letter From Francis Mairs Huntington-Wilson to Richard M. Bartleman, April 22, 1909" (1909).
Other Correspondence. 49.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/fmhw_other/49

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the Assistant Secretary of State (1909-1913) at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Other Correspondence by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.

April 22, 1909.

My dear Bartleman:

You are the most thoughtful man I ever knew. I was amazed to receive those little H.W.'s so thoughtlessly cast aside at your house in Madrid.

It is delightful to hear that you have entirely satisfactory offices and I am looking forward to seeing photographs of them.

I have no special news, and could not take the time to write it if I had, such is the present pressure.

I had some long conversations with Mr. Sherrill, our new Minister to the Argentine, just before his departure. I hope you and he will work together well. You should be able to give him many valuable suggestions, owing to your knowledge of Latin America. In him I am sure you will find a keen and energetic man.

With the kindest regards from my wife and myself to Mrs. Bartleman, your aunt and the children, I remain, always,

Yours sincerely,

Richard M. Bartleman, Esquire,

American Consul General,

Buenos Aires.